Step 5: Selection Process

Treasury is committed to undertaking a 'proper assessment of merit' to ensure that the most suitable people are appointed. At all stages in the recruitment process the panel will be determining suitability based on a thorough assessment of the applicant's ability to meet the capabilities outlined in the Role Statement. All recruitment decisions will be transparent and capable of review.

1. The selection panel will assess your application and agree on a 'shortlist' of the most competitive applicants. The panel may use other/additional methods to shortlist for example, telephone screening.
2. If you are considered suitable at shortlisting you will be advised on what the next step in the process will be. This may include an interview and/or another form of assessment (e.g. work sample test, presentation, group exercise). In each case, the panel will assess your suitability to the position using the essential capabilities and any other role specific requirements contained in the Role Statement.
3. References are an important part of the process and your two nominated referees may be contacted to verify your work capabilities at some time during the process. If we are unable to contact your nominated referees you will be asked to supply alternative referees. It is recommended that one of your referees be a current or previous supervisor. It is also recommended you provide your referees with a copy of the Role Statement.

At all times throughout the selection process applicants will be kept informed either through email or telephone.

Step 6: Notification to applicants

Once a decision has been made by the selection panel and the process has progressed through the necessary approval points, you will be notified advising the outcome of the selection process.

In most cases, if you have been unsuccessful, you will be advised by email and be given the opportunity to seek feedback from the panel. You will also receive notification of the breach process and the process by which to apply, should you believe the Employment Standard has been breached.

You will have 4 working days to apply for a breach of standard claim and will need to lodge this claim in writing stating how you believe the Standard has not been applied.

Please note, recommendations to positions, are always subject to a breach period and your appointment will not be confirmed until the end of the 4 day breach period.

Step 7: Notification to applicants in an appointment pool

If the position you applied for was advertised as an appointment pool and you are considered suitable by the selection panel, you will be placed in the pool. You will be notified of this in writing, usually by email at the same time as unsuccessful applicants. Generally pools will be open for 6 to 12 months, however this will be clearly stated in the original advertisement. Appointment from the pool will be at the timing and discretion of individual work areas and will be dependent on positions becoming vacant and subject to budgetary requirements. You may be contacted at any point throughout the life of the pool for appointment to a particular position if the need arises.

Step 8: Successful Applicants

If you have been successful in obtaining a position at Treasury you will be notified once the breach period is closed and your appointment will be confirmed in writing. The relevant manager will then be in contact to discuss possible commencement dates and Treasury's induction process.

Criminal Record Screening

A consent form for criminal record screening will be issued to applicants as part of the process. The results of this test may affect whether appointment is offered. In the event of a negative result, the Department will make a decision on whether appointment is granted based on the reasons for the negative result and future impact on the organisation. You will be notified in the event that this occurs. The information provided on the criminal record screening test will not be used for any other purpose. All information obtained will be treated with the utmost sensitivity and confidentiality and managed in accordance with the Department of Treasury's Records Retention and Disposal Schedule

Thank you for considering a career at Treasury.
