Conduct and Behaviour

The WA Health Code of Conduct (Code) identifies our CORE values, fundamental in all of our work, and translates these values into principles that guide our conduct in the workplace. It defines the standards of ethical and professional conduct and outlines the behaviours expected of all WA Health staff.

The intent of the Code is to promote a positive workplace culture by providing a framework to promote ethical day-to-day conduct and decision making. It does not and cannot cover every situation that may arise in the workplace.

WA Health CORE values are underpinned by the Western Australian Public Sector Code of Ethics which refers to the principles of personal integrity, relationships with others and accountability. WA Health CORE values are; Collaboration, Openness, Respect and Empowerment.

Professional Practice Model for Nursing

The SCGH Professional Practice Model for Nursing is a conceptual framework that supports nurses in their practice. The model defines the practice of nursing at SCGH, and the actions, interactions and partnerships necessary to achieve high quality patient care. Our model emphasises the importance of nursing leadership, best practice, innovation and professional growth, to achieving safe, quality outcomes for patients, staff and the community.
