Our values

Our people are guided by our shared values, and embody them in their work and interactions with students, parents and carers, each other and our wider communities. You are encouraged to familiarise yourself with them, and represent them in your communications with us.

Learning

We have a positive approach to learning and encourage it in others. We advance student learning based on our belief that all students have the capacity to learn.

Excellence

We have high expectations of students and ourselves. We set standards of excellence and strive to achieve them. The standards and expectations challenge all of us to give our best.

Equity

We recognise the differing circumstances and needs of students and are dedicated to achieving the best possible outcomes for all. We strive to create workplaces and learning environments that are free of discrimination, abuse and exploitation.

Care

We treat all individuals with care. Our relationships are based on trust, mutual respect and the acceptance of responsibility. We recognise the value of working with parents/carers and the wider community to provide a high quality education for students.

Integrity

We act with integrity, responsibility and transparency in all that we do.

Respect

We treat everyone fairly, and we treat all schools, school systems and school sectors with respect.

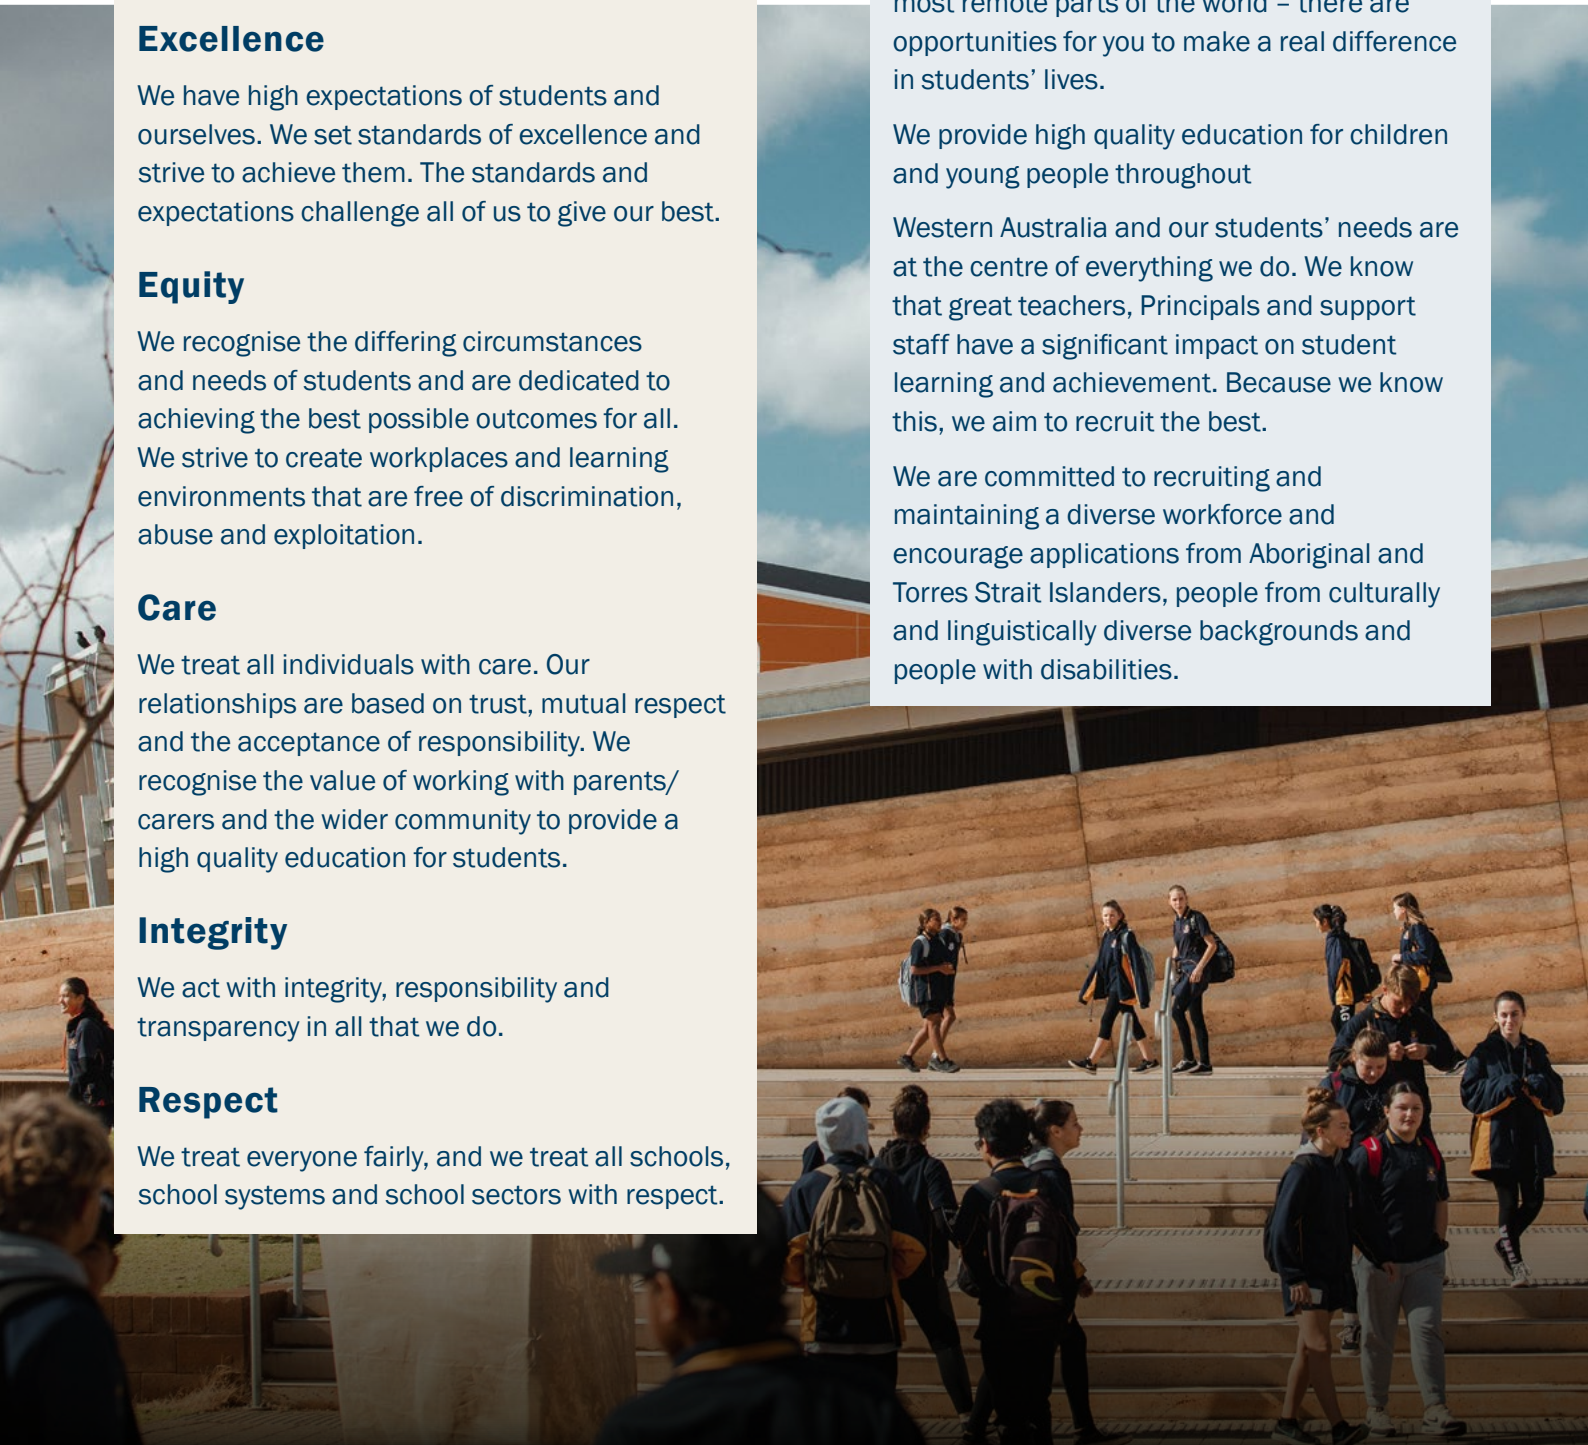

Who we are

As the largest public sector employer in the State, our people are our most valuable asset. With more than 800 schools and workplaces in communities across our state – in bustling city and regional centres and in some of the most remote parts of the world – there are opportunities for you to make a real difference in students' lives.

We provide high quality education for children and young people throughout

Western Australia and our students' needs are at the centre of everything we do. We know that great teachers, Principals and support staff have a significant impact on student learning and achievement. Because we know this, we aim to recruit the best.

We are committed to recruiting and maintaining a diverse workforce and encourage applications from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders, people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds and people with disabilities.

Integrity

Integrity in our recruitment practices

As a public sector agency, we are supported by legislation to guide our practice. The way we choose our staff is transparent, fair, and free from bias and patronage. Our practice and policies support this.

Find out more about the Public Sector Standards in Human Resource Management.

Find out more about breach claims wa.gov.au/organisation/public-sector-commission/breach-of-standard-claims or contact our Workforce Policy and Coordination team on (08) 9264 5081.

We generally apply a four (4) day breach period to selection processes, but please check the job advertisement carefully as this may differ for each vacancy. You may consider lodging a breach claim where you believe we breached one of the Public Sector Standards in Human Resource Management (other than the discipline standard), and that you have been adversely affected by this. You will be given information about the breach period at the conclusion of the recruitment process.

Integrity in your application

We expect that you will act with integrity through all aspects of the recruitment and selection process. This means that your application is free from plagiarism, and that you represent yourself with honesty.

Be mindful of conflicts of interest when selecting referees. These can be perceived or actual. While it is normally recommended that you don't nominate a family member or close friend, due to the perceived conflict of interest, at times this may unavoidable. Where this happens, you are encouraged to disclose this to the panel. Similarly, your referee may be part of the selection panel, or you may have a family or other relationship with a panel member.

When considering nominating colleagues where there is a perceived or actual conflict of interest, it is important that you advise them you have nominated them so they are able to declare this conflict when participating in the process, or providing a reference for you.

Eligibility

Non-permanent residents with working rights, and temporary visa holders with working rights are eligible to be appointed to fixed term (temporary) positions. Some visas restrict the number of hours you can work, or the locations you can work in. Please check this carefully before applying.

The selection process

Principals and selection panels understand that it can be difficult for you to include the level of detail you may want in your application. To assess applicant more fully, selection panels - normally three to four people, with a balance of gender, who have knowledge of the role – will generally shortlist those who are most competitive for further assessment. They may then assess you further through other methods.

Some of these may include:

- A phone or online interview
- An in-person interview
- A conversation with your nominated referee
- Examples of your work
- A presentation – either in person or on video
- Aptitude test
- Task based assessment

Be assured that all of the selection criteria will be assessed at some point through the selection process.

When a selection process is finalised, the panel will prepare a report detailing the process and the recommended applicant/s. Once this is completed, you will be notified of the outcome.

You are encouraged to seek feedback on your application and assessment, as this can assist you in preparing future applications.
