WA Country Health Service – Who we are

WA Country Health Service (WACHS) is a strong, diverse, high performing health service that puts the health of country people first. It is one of the largest country health systems in Australia, delivering public health services to around half a million people in Western Australia's rural and remote regions.

WACHS comprises of 7 regions: Kimberley, Pilbara, Midwest, Goldfields, Wheatbelt, Great Southern and South West, supported by a head office in Perth. WACHS provide acute and primary health care in more than 70 hospitals across the state, as well as a large number of remote area clinics, population health (community and public) centres, mental health and aged care facilities.

WACHS employs a range of allied health professionals including physiotherapists, occupational therapists, speech pathologists, dietitians, nutritionists, podiatrists, audiologists, social workers, pharmacists, health promotion officers and psychologists.

Our dedicated and committed staff work hard to fulfil our vision of healthier country communities through partnerships and innovation.

“I personally get to travel to many small towns and communities, meet heaps of people and have the opportunity to work in paediatrics, aged care, inpatients, outpatients, health promotion, student supervision and management”

Allied Health Careers in WACHS – What is on offer

As an Allied Health professional working at WACHS, you have the unique opportunity to develop a variety of skills and experience in your chosen profession.

Moreover, you will be part of a team, sharing and enhancing your skills, contributing to making quality healthcare more equitable and accessible by delivering evidence-based and patient-centred care to regional Western Australians.

You will have the chance to take health beyond the hospital and connect with the community, making a difference to people's lives.

You will have access to:

-Competitive salaries

|      |          |      |           |      |           |

-Develop professional competencies such as research, health promotion and education, student supervision

-Learn about a range of cultures

-Tailored learning and development including mentoring such as the Transition to Practice (T2P) program.

T2P aims to support the transition to rural and remote practice. The program provides participants the opportunity to consolidate and apply skills as well as acquire new skills and knowledge.

-Career advancement

Lifestyle Choices

-Explore the WA outback and its abundant natural attractions

-Experience WA's rich and diverse cultural heritage

-A more relaxed and friendly lifestyle

-Great community spirit and new, lifelong friendships

-Pursue a range of new activities and interests personally and professionally

Allied Health Recruitment Pools

What is the recruitment 'pool'? How does it work?

The P1 Allied Health Recruitment Pools aims to recruit suitable individuals to P1 positions in Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy, Speech Pathology, Social Work and Dietetics.

It is a centralised recruitment process that allows you to submit one application and be considered for a range of positions and sites across WACHS.

It is an open-ended pool which means that you could be considered for any position that arises for as long as the pool is valid. For example, the ad states the closing date for applications is October 31 2021 and that the pool is valid until February 25 2022 – this means that as long as you submit your application before October 31 2021, you could be considered for appointment to the pool and subsequently any suitable positions that arise until February 25 2022.

If successful to the pool, you would be considered for:

- part-time or full-time casual positions, fixed term contracts of any length, and, if you are an Australian permanent resident or citizen, permanent roles
- new contracts or extension of your current contract
- positions based in hospital and/or community/primary health centres
- roles at various locations in the 7 regions without having to apply multiple times.

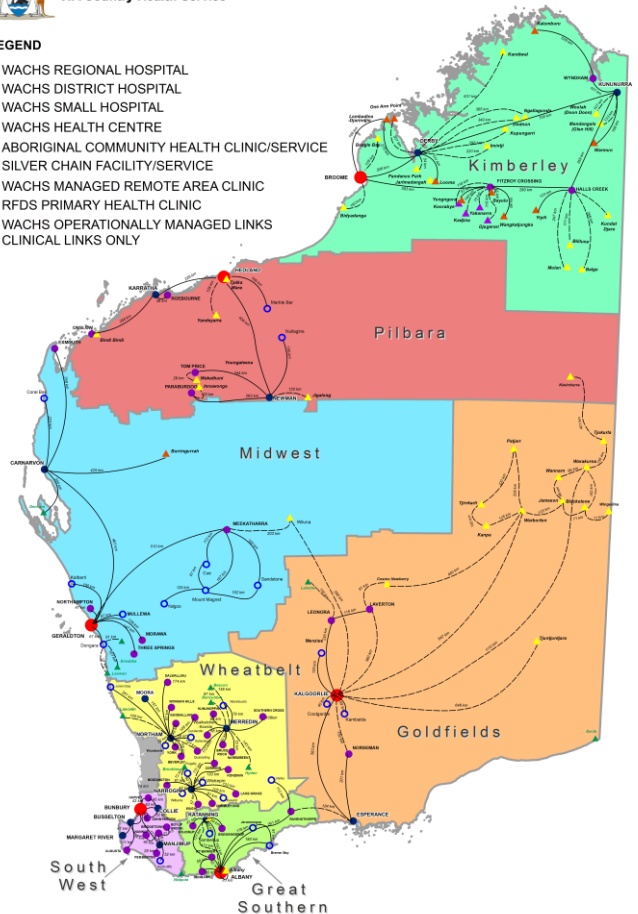

Once you are successfully appointed to the pool, managers at different sites will view your information and contact you when there is a suitable position.

There is no obligation to take any position that may be offered to you. We understand that each person's circumstances are unique and that some people may be willing to travel to any region and others may be restricted to specific location(s) or region(s).

Where is this pool for? What if I only want to work in certain areas?

Applicants from the pool can be appointed to positions at sites in any of the 7 regions across country WA. Allied Health professionals are generally based in district or regional centres, including but not limited to:

- Kimberley: Derby, Broome, Kununurra, Halls Creek, Fitzroy Crossing
- Pilbara: Port Hedland, Karratha, Newman, Tom Price
- Midwest: Geraldton, Carnarvon
- Goldfields: Kalgoorlie, Esperance
- Wheatbelt: Northam, Merredin, Narrogin, Moora
- South West: Bunbury, Busselton, Collie, Manjimup
- Great Southern: Albany, Katanning, Denmark

As part of the application process, you will be asked to indicate in which regions you are willing and/or able to work and your availability to commence employment at WACHS. It is suggested that you list all regions that you may consider so that managers from those regions can contact you to offer roles that you may be interested in. In general, you will only be contacted by managers who have positions available in the regions that you nominate.

About the Application Process

What do I need to do to apply?

You need to apply via the relevant job advertisement for your profession on the Jobs WA website. You will need to submit the following documents and information:

- Information on your residency or visa status
- Contact details for 2 recent professional referees
- A detailed curriculum vitae outlining your education, professional work experience and other key achievements, skills, attributes and/or experience
- A statement addressing the Selection Criteria. The selection criteria can be found in Section 5 on the last page of the job description form.
- Your availability to commence or continue employment at WACHS
- Your preferences for regions you are interested and able to work in

It is not necessary to submit your academic transcripts or degree certificates. However, you will need to indicate if you meet the professional registration or membership requirements for your profession in your curriculum vitae and/or selection criteria.

Will there be interviews?

The selection process to be appointed to the recruitment pool generally does not include interviews. However, once you are appointed to the pool, a manager may contact you and seek additional information from you as part of considering you for specific roles.

Do you contact my referees?

Yes, we contact at least 2 referees as part of the selection process, either via email or telephone.

Please ensure your referees are aware of your application at the time of submission. We will not contact you separately to advise that your referees are being contacted. If you need to update your referees after submitting your application then please contact us via WACHSAlliedHealthPools@health.wa.gov.au

What are selection criteria?

Selection criteria outline the qualifications, experience, skills, knowledge and attributes required to fulfil a role. They usually comprise essential and desirable criteria. At a minimum, the essential criteria must be addressed in a statement (not just your curriculum vitae). It is preferable that you also address the desirable criteria as this provides managers with additional information about your suitability and can make you more competitive for a role.

The selection criteria can be found in Section 5 on the last page of the job description form.

How much do I need to write in the selection criteria?

Some criteria, e.g. qualification and driver's licence, only require a sentence or two to demonstrate you meet the criteria.

The remaining criteria require a more comprehensive answer of why you meet the criteria, what you have done and outcomes of what was achieved. As a guide, your response to each of these criteria may be half to two thirds of a page long (assuming single spacing).

Use examples with accurate and factual information. Aim to provide at least one example for each criterion asking about your skills, knowledge and experience to demonstrate your competency for the position.

Take into account the specific needs and contexts of the position to ensure your examples are relevant. Outline your understanding and experience as well as how you have demonstrated the skills, attributes and knowledge.

Here are some frameworks that can be used when providing examples in the selection criteria statement:

- Situation, Task, Action, Result
- Situation, Action, Outcome
- What, How, Outcome
- Context, Action, Result

How will I know if I am successful/in the pool and what happens then?

Once your application and referee reports have been assessed, you will receive an email letter from Health Support Services (HSS) advising you if you have been successful or not to the recruitment pool.

If you are successful, your application and details will be made available to designated allied health managers in WACHS. These managers will contact you when a suitable position arises to see if you are interested to take up the position. As mentioned previously, managers may contact you at this point to ask additional questions or seek further information to assess your suitability for the position.

Even once you have accepted a position, you can remain in the pool and be considered for an extension of your contract and/or other positions as they arise.

While you are in the pool, it is extremely important that you keep your availability and preferences up-to-date regularly so that you don't miss out on any opportunities.

When the pool closes, you will need to re-apply to the following pool via the Jobs WA website to have access to opportunities again. You will need to provide an updated curriculum vitae and selection criteria statement each time.

Why would I not be successful to the pool?

Decisions will be made in accordance with legislative requirement, including Equal Employment Opportunity and the Public Sector Employment Standard. All decisions are open to review.

If you do not have the necessary qualification and registration or membership for that profession and/or residency and visa requirements to work in Australia, you cannot be considered for the pool or a professional allied health position.

If you have not addressed each selection criteria separately and/or there is insufficient information in your application and/or referee report regarding your experience, attributes, skills and knowledge, it will not be possible to determine that you meet each of the essential selection criteria.

How long does it take?

We aim to review and process your application and provide you notification of whether you have been successful within 1 month of receiving it.

There may be delays for example if we do not receive a response from your referees or staff are on leave.

What sites have vacancies at present?

As there are hundreds of allied health staff working at numerous sites across WACHS, things are constantly changing and it is not possible to track vacancies week to week.

Fortunately, opportunities regularly arise across WACHS throughout the year and, as part of the pool, you could be considered for any of them. If you are open to working across a range of regions, there will likely be more opportunities on offer.
