Graduate Urban and Regional Planning Program

The Urban and Regional Planning Graduate Program at Main Roads will provide you exciting, diverse and hands-on practical experience through a two-year rotational program.

Begin your Career at MainRoads!

Our main goal is to help you grow. As a leader, as a thinker – and as an individual who has an impact in our communities.

Graduate planning opportunities are available in operation and future planning teams.

As a Graduate Urban and Regional Planner, you will support the planning and development of future road networks and assessment of land use planning proposals to assist the movement of people and freight.

You will contribute to projects that improve mobility, safety, and sustainability across urban and regional transport networks. This role is ideal for recent graduates who have a passion for transport, urban planning, and public policy.

You will gain hands on experience in building a safer, smarter, and more connected road network. You'll be part of a team that values innovation, collaboration, and community impact. These include but are not limited to;

- Develop technical and strategic transport planning skills
- Be exposed to multiple multidisciplinary teams across the organisation
- Foster and develop communication and stakeholder engagement skills

What to expect

You will be rotating through our organisation, learning new and familiar topics. Rotate through the following areas to expand your skills and knowledge;

- Future road requirements and corridor planning
- Integration of land use with the road network
- Access requirements.
- Development Application, Subdivision Application, Structure Plans and Planning Scheme reviews,
- Communication and stakeholder engagement with local governments, state agencies and developers.
- Application of Policy and guideline
- Land acquisition and tenure
- Road Proclamation
- Environmental Considerations
- Road Safety and Road Design Review

Your Future, Our Direction

If the idea of an attractive remuneration package, well-structured rotation plan, participation in substantial projects, formal training to support your development, and flexible working arrangements is what you are looking for; Main Roads can build your future and will invest in your growth as a person and a professional.

We want to hear from you!

We are seeking highly motivated students who are prepared to tackle complex issues, have excellent communication skills, and thrive on working in a team in a changing environment. We look for proactive results driven people to help drive our commitment to building a better WA.
